Year 2025-26

Shri Sadguru Nityanand Bhagwan

In the heart of the lush landscapes of Kerala, a legend was born on a tempestuous night in the humble village of Tunehi. Amidst the raging storm and howling winds, a miraculous event unfolded. A laborer named Chatu Nair stumbled upon a newborn child swaddled in a blanket, a sight that seemed almost divine. Guarding the tiny infant with an ethereal protective fervor was a cobra, its hood majestically raised, as if ensuring that no harm would come to the precious being. Awestruck, Nair hurried to his employer, a compassionate local advocate named Ishwar Ayyar. Together, they took the child, whom they named Raman, under their care, nurturing him with love and attention.

From an early age, it was clear that Raman was no ordinary child. Whispers of his miraculous abilities spread like wildfire through the village; tales of incredible feats and mystical occurrences surrounded him. As Ishwar Ayyar approached the twilight of his life, he implored Raman to grant him the incredible darshan of Lord Surya Narayan. When the divine event unfolded, illuminating the room with a profound light, Ayyar was overwhelmed with joy and gratitude, realizing that the child he had nurtured was destined for greatness.

In the years that followed, Raman emerged as Shree Bhagwan Nityanand, a figure of immense spiritual resonance. He devoted himself to yoga, austerities, and penance, journeying through places steeped in spiritual heritage—Himalayas, Varanasi, Colombo, Rameswaram, Udipi, and Mangalore—each location seeming to beckon him with untold wonder. With each step he took, individuals found solace as they were liberated from the shackles of illness, sorrow, and poverty through his divine healing touch. Bhagwan Nityanand's fame bloomed across the lands, alluring countless devotees eager to witness the miracles that surrounded him.

Upon reaching Kanhangad, Bhagwan Nityanand established a tranquil settlement of meditation caves, crafting a sanctuary in the embrace of nature. He became a guardian of the earth, planting trees and manifesting a shimmering stream, lovingly named Papnashini

Ganga—a tribute to its healing powers, which continues to draw seekers of comfort and truth to this day.

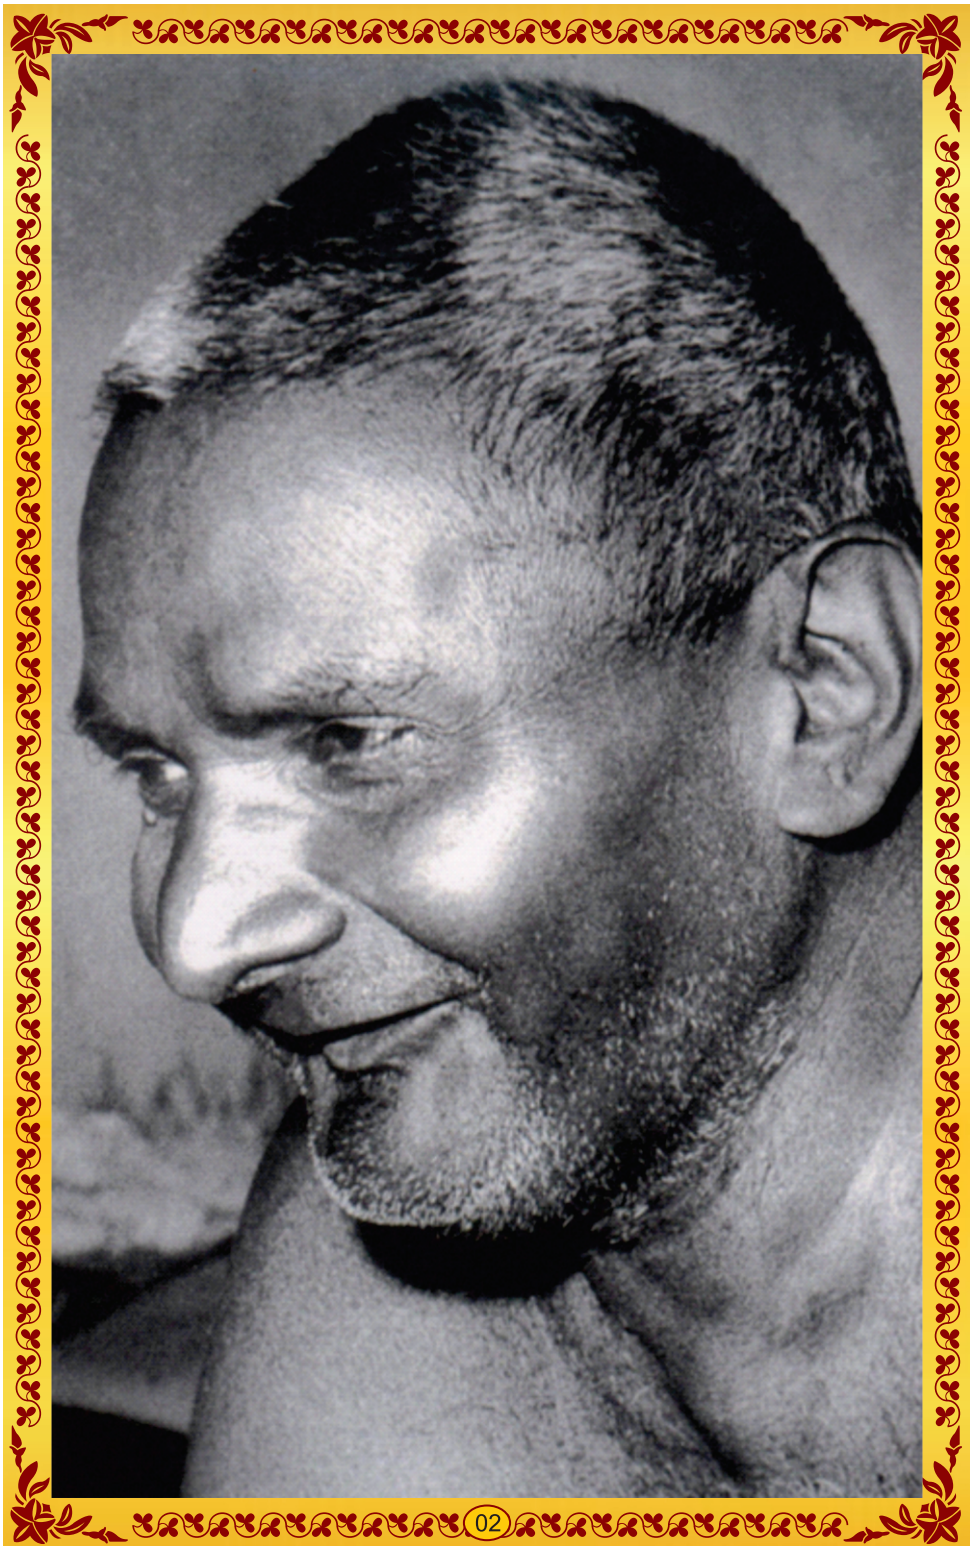

His journey eventually led him to the lively city of Mumbai, where healing miracles flourished, and hope was reborn. In 1937, he ventured to the serene Tansa Valley, settling in Akloli and Vajreshwari, where he founded schools, clinics, and rest houses, transforming lives and fostering a community anchored in spiritual learning and meditation.

Eventually, he made his humble abode near the ancient Shri Bhimeshwar Mahadev Temple in Ganeshpuri. This quaint spot transformed into a vibrant pilgrimage center, attracting thousands from nearby villages and distant lands, all in search of spiritual awakening and material upliftment.

Baba Nityanand's presence alone became a powerful vessel of communication. Those fortunate enough to be in his aura would find themselves enveloped in silence. Questions evaporated before they could be voiced, and doubts faded without debate. In the gentle embrace of this great Avadhoot, individuals found solace, their stresses a mere whisper in the profound tranquility he emanated. His silent strength spoke volumes, imparting wisdom and peace in the hearts of many.

Miracles continued to weave a tapestry of divine experiences for countless devotees, affirming the power of faith and devotion. On the 8th of August, 1961, Shree Bhagwan Nityanand took Mahasamadhi, transcending this earthly realm, yet his spirit endures. His shrine in Ganeshpuri stands as a testament to his divine legacy, where countless devotees still seek his guidance and experience an ineffable connection to his kindness and love.

“You have granted the supreme bliss; hence, you are my Nityananda,” remains the echoing sentiment of those whose lives he touched—a harmonious reminder that in his silence, he bestowed the most profound of teachings.

BAL BHOJAN

The Balbhojan stands as a luminous embodiment of Baba's boundless love and compassion for children, particularly those from marginalized communities and Adivasi backgrounds. This noble initiative was designed to foster the holistic development and well-being of these children, offering nourishing meals, clothing, primary education, shelter, healthcare, and, most importantly, character formation. In doing so, Baba set a resplendent example for society, with Balbhojan symbolizing his grand vision for a brighter future. On average, 250 children, along with 1,000 adults and Sadhus, partake in the daily offerings of this sacred service.

HOT WATER KUND

Nestled alongside the Samadhi Mandir and Shiva Temple, the hot water springs are sanctified by the presence of Bhagwan Nityanand. According to legend, these springs, imbued with curative powers, were born from the Yagna led by Maharshi Vashistha and honored by celestial deities. The site emanates an undeniable aura of divinity, marked not only by Baba's enduring presence but also by ethereal sightings—known as Sapta Rishis—and the sweet resonance of celestial music.

SHREE BHIMESHWAR MAHADEV MANDIR

Directly facing the Kund and adjacent to Baba's Samadhi Mandir lies the ancient temple of Shree Bhimeshwar Mahadev. Once desolate and devoid of pilgrims, the landscape transformed with Baba's arrival in 1937, as he established his residence beside this revered temple.

Later relocating to his ashram, "Vaikuntha," Baba's presence invigorated Bhimeshwar Shiva Temple and Vaikuntha Ashram, which blossomed into a vibrant pilgrimage site. Miraculously, water from the temple's ceiling would drip onto the floor, forming miniature Shiva Lingas, captivating devotees with its mystique.

GANESHIN KAILASH NIVAS

The installation of the Ganesh statue by Bhagwan Nityananda in Ganeshpuri symbolizes a deep spiritual connection between Lord Shiva and Ganesh. The place is considered highly powerful for removing obstacles, offering devotees a sacred space for worship, reflection and spiritual growth.

BHADRAKALI MANDIR

The temple of Devi Bhadrakali was envisioned by Baba himself, following the divine wish of the goddess. Initially manifested as a simple altar within Baba's Ashram, the temple eventually materialized into a full-fledged sacred space, honoring the divine essence of the Devi.

GOPAL KRISHNA MANDIR

Previously serving as the home for a stone image of Nandi, the Gopal Krishna Mandir faced a curious challenge during its construction. Despite the strength of fifteen individuals, the statue of Nandi could not be relocated until Baba imparted the wisdom to break a coconut, effortlessly making the task achievable. Baba then consecrated the idol of Lord Shri Krishna, transforming the stone Nandi into Krishna's beloved cow. Daily pujas and the joyous celebration of Krishna Janmashtami are carried out with unwavering devotion.

NAVGRAHA SHRINE

In response to the heartfelt aspirations of numerous devotees visiting Baba's Samadhi, the Trustees established a shrine dedicated to the worship of Navgraha, prominently situated on the eastern front of the Samadhi Mandir, providing spiritual solace and connection for all who seek divine guidance.

VAJRESHWARI

Located approximately three kilometers from Ganeshpuri, the revered temple of Vajreshwari Devi stands as a renowned center of powerful shakti, drawing devotees from far and wide. This sacred site embodies a magnetic spiritual energy, inviting seekers to connect with the divine feminine presence that resides within.

Ganeshpuri, a timeless sanctuary renowned for its breathtaking natural beauty, is nestled against the majestic backdrop of Mount Mandakini, where ancient Siddhas engaged in profound austerities. The enchanting Tansa River gracefully meanders through the valley, its waters purifying and tranquil. Surrounding this sacred site are numerous hot springs, believed to be divine gifts bestowed by the revered sage Vashishtha, who created them through his celestial powers for the comfort and rejuvenation of the many sages who once gathered here for grand Yajnas.

Long ago, sage Vashishtha conducted a magnificent Yajna—an elaborate fire ceremony—on these hallowed grounds. According to tradition, during this sacred event, he installed an idol of Lord Ganesh in the revered temple of Bhimeshwar Mahadev. Since that auspicious day, this land has been affectionately referred to as Ganeshpuri. In the vicinity of the ancient Bhimeshwar Mahadev temple, Gurudev commissioned the excavation of three sacred hot spring tanks. He fervently conveyed to his followers the sanctity of these springs, noting that during the Brahma Muhurta—an auspicious time—divine Siddhas would come to bathe in their healing waters.

Any devotee visiting Swamiji was first encouraged to take a holy dip in these Kundas (hot springs) by Swamiji himself. Many devotees reported miraculous healings and the alleviation of various ailments after immersing themselves in these sacred waters.

Thus, what was once a spiritually charged landscape—a wish-fulfilling haven for devotees of yesteryears—was revitalized through the presence and blessings of Gurudev. He came, he stayed, and he rendered this sacred place immortal. Through the grace of Shree Gurudev Nityanand, Ganeshpuri transformed into a beacon of spiritual renewal and divine presence.
